Katie Nicholson, Greenville's youngest senior citizen

Katie Nicholson Officially Old

By HAL E. TOSIS

Local resident Katie Nicholson turned 50 today and officially joins the ranks of the wrinkly oldies.

When asked how she felt, Ms Nicholson said "Oh, it's not so bad turning 50. Sure my joints ache, my hair is greying, and I suffer from hot flashes, but I'm so forgetful these days that I hardly remember to notice the discomfort. In fact, my memory's so bad that I probably won't even remember having this conversation with you. Who are you again, by the way?".

Residents have been celebrating

Ms Nicholson's birthday, for more reasons than one - her birthday is expected to provide a small boost to the city's economy, as she will soon be looking to purchase new spectacles, arthritis cream, extra-strength wrinkle lotion, and a zimmer frame.

Dog-walker sights UFO

By BUSTIN TOOPEE

Yesterday afternoon Greenville resident Katie Nicholson spotted a UFO flying above her house. Police chief Gonzalo Gonzales raced to the scene where Nicholson reported "I was playing catch with my dog Bozo out in the yard and he started barking at the sky. I looked up and above me there was a UFO. It was shaped exactly like a cloud. These aliens are getting really clever at disguising their spacecraft."

Gonzales released a statement saying "Yes, it looked just like a cloud." and police will not pursue the incident further.
